1,400 more by July 1 is test site target

A 1,400 man jump in the next 60 days!

That's the plan to get Mississippi Test Facility (formerly Mississippi Test Operations) ready to static test the Saturn V moon rocket this winter.

Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., parent of MTF, announced today that by July 1, employment should total 5,150 persons of whom 2,220 will be activation and operation personnel (A&O) and 2,930 construction and installation workers (C&I).

As of April 30, there were 3,740 persons working at the site, made up of 1,130 A&I personnel and 2,610 C&I.

Most of the increase in the work this summer is associated with the completion of the first S-II test stand.

Originally it was expected that basic construction work would be essentially completed before activation crews started installation of ground support equipment and other facilities which are necessary to the total readiness of this and other stands.

With the agreement of the Corps of Engineers, construction agent for MSFC, the two phases of work will be carried out concurrently for a short time instead of sequentially.

According to present employment projections the total work population of MTF will reach a peak Dec. 30, 1965, of 5,250-3,300 A&O and 1,950 C&I.

Thereafter the construction and installation category of employees continues to drop while the other category builds to a peak on Dec. 30, 1966. At that time A&O will reach 3,700 and C&I will decrease to 1,200, giving the facility a total of 3,820.

By June 30, 1967, personnel totals should stabilize at about 3,165, all but 65 of whom will be A&I type personnel. Most of the workers at MTO are and will continue to be employees of private companies. In

New name begets new chief

Selection of Jackson Balch as site manager at Mississippi Test Facility and head of the MTF task force was announced today as NASA made known its speed-up plans for the Hancock County installation.

Balch, until now assistant deputy director, technical, at Marshall Space Flight Center, has been assigned to industrial operations and will take on the new dual title here.

William C. Fortune, captain, USN-ret., will continue as manager of Mississippi Test Operations pending organizational arrangements necessary to carry out the increased scope of activation and operation.

The present MTO and the activation task force have been formed into a new Mississippi Test Facility task force. Two temporary organizations located at Huntsville, which have been instrumental in the planning and early build-up of the facility, have been abolished, further emphasizing the new character of the work now beginning at MTO—they are the MTF planning board and MTF working group. Some members of these two units will be assigned to the new task force.

Dr. Werner von Braun, director at MSFC, in making these changes, pointed out that the task force is being formed for a special limited job—to complete construction and activation of the test site in a timely, efficient manner. A permanent NASA-MSFC organization, which will supervise the continuing operation of MTF once it is activated, will be formed later.

One effect of today's moves is to place complete responsibility for remaining MTF activation work in the Marshall Center's industrial operations which is headed by Col. Edmund O'Connor.

Space ran out!

Because of the wide interest in MTO plans, released just before press time, many stories written for this week's edition will not appear until next week.

The construction phase, dozens of firms are working under the supervision of the Corps of Engineers. The majority of the operation and activation type personnel will be employees of Boeing Co. and North American Aviation, Inc., prime contractors for the S-IC and S-II stages which will be tested at MTO, and General Electric Co., support contractors, as well as sub-contractors. NASA presently has 66 employees at MTF and at the peak will have only about 200. The Corps of Engineers also has a relatively small supervisory force. Anticipated impact from the build-up is to be studied with

Hospital annex goods net 39 bids

For Hancock General Hospital it seems to be a case of feast or famine.

Early last year not a bidder showed up on the first try to sell bonds for the local share of the 26-bed addition. Last Friday, 39 bids, the most ever received on a Hancock County job, were submitted for equipment in the new wing and expanded main plant.

After a check of the tabulation by the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care, the board of supervisors Monday approved bids totaling $26,953.48 for the equipment after dispute over what type of patient beds should be used. The sum was short of the $30,000 provided for equipment.

The vote was 4-0 on the School bond issue sweeps to victory

The county school system's proposed $350,000 bond issue breezed in Saturday, winning approval from 73.6 per cent of the 1,213 voters who went to the polls. Approval by 60 per cent of those voting was necessary for passage.

The official canvass by the election commission Monday morning showed 893 votes in favor of the issue and 320 opposed.

Exactly one year ago, a proposed $375,000 issue for the same building projects—Pearlington, Gulfview and Hancock North Central Schools—failed by 54 votes to get the necessary 60 per cent for approval. Only 940 cast ballots at that time, 486 for and 454 against.

This time, voters went to the polls in far greater numbers and all but four of the 14 precincts involved were in the affirmative column. The issue failed to carry Beat 3 again but Beat 4 reversed its stand and went for the plan, while Beat 1 upped its approval from 180 in favor a year ago to 341 on Saturday. Beat 2 also had its lone precinct open this year.

The biggest in rift of support came in Beat 1 which had only 16 votes opposed. Beat 5 went 187 to 22 in favor of it.

while Beat 4 was 282 for and 186 opposed. Previously Beat 4 was 82 for and 215 against.

Beat 3 opposed the issue 144 to 73. The proposal failed to carry Crane Creek and Standard precincts and split, 17-17, at Dede x which was the first box to report unofficial returns Saturday, calling the Court-

Charter service asked at airport

A Jackson aviation firm Monday asked the board of supervisors to consider a contract which would provide for charter plane service and instruction at Hancock County Airport.

M.D. Sutherland, representing Porter Flying Service, said his company wants to station a pilot and two planes at the local field and would need the use of the Edwardsville precinct on the airport property for a phone answering service. However, he expressed concern about the 60-odd-foot height of trees at the north end of the landing strip which he said would be difficult for novices to handle and inquired about the county's plans to improve the runway.

With only four of the five supervisors present at the time Sutherland appeared, President R.G. Hubbard, Jr., said the matter would be discussed and asked him to return later for further consideration.

Tapping the advertising fund again this year the board approved a $900 advertisement in the 1965-66 edition of the Mississippi Coast Monitor and a $180 page ad in Mississippi News and Views, a relatively new state-wide publication.

Echo goofs on election plea

In the paid political advertisement by Mayor John A. Scalfide in last week's edition of the Sea Coast Echo, one line of copy was erroneously omitted.

The opening paragraph should have read: "In offering for re-election to this high position of trust and responsibility, I should like first to express to you, the people of Bay St. Louis, my sincere gratitude and appreciation, for having afforded me the privilege and honor of serving as your Mayor for the past 12 years."

Omission of the line altered the meaning of the announcement. The Echo regrets the error.

For natural gas Back United

United Gas Corp.'s application before the Public Service Commission for a permit to serve the area south of the MTO buffer zone from Pearl River east almost to the Waveland town limits was endorsed by the board of supervisors late Monday afternoon.

The supervisors' action came after R. Frank Nowlin, assistant district manager for United Gas, explained that his firm's application embraced not only Belle Isles and Oak Harbor sub-divisions and Pearlington but the Ansley, Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor areas as well.

The Public Service Commission notice on the application did not specify the entire lower Bay area also was included, stating only "and a certain area." That omission resulted in quite a ruckus at last Friday's session of the supervisors when they went on record, with one member absent, supporting Donnell Co.'s application to provide natural gas to Clermont and Lakeshore. Earlier in April after the PSC notices arrived, the board recommended United Gas to serve the two Pearlington area sub-divisions and that community.

After Nowlin's appearance Monday, the supervisors wired the PSC that it supported United Gas and withdrew conflicting recommendations.

Hearing on the two applications from United and Donnell—was set Tuesday by the PSC to be May 21. The commission in late March had issued United Gas a temporary certificate to proceed with installation of natural gas lines in the Pearlington vicinity but rescinded that at a special meeting April 15 when it developed two different firms were seeking to serve virtually the same areas. Nowlin said his company asked that the temporary order be removed. United Gas also has applied for a certificate to serve the rapidly developing section from north of the Bay St. Louis and Waveland corporate limits to two township sections north of

At enamel plant Work stops

Pickets showed up for the first time Wednesday at the strike-bound Industrial Enameling plant while negotiations continued between management and Sheet Metal Workers Local 11, AFL-CIO.

While the dispute over wages in a new contract is with the sheet metal workers, the enameling workers who have signed a new agreement, are staying off the job in sympathy, Robert P. Guilbault, manager, said 121 men are out.

The work stoppage began last Friday. Guilbault indicated the federal mediation service may be called in if negotiations fail to settle the matter. The walkout is the first since Industrial Enameling opened in March, 1962. The parent company, Industrial Electric, Inc., in New Orleans has not experienced any labor difficulties in at least four years, Guilbault said.

About 50 employees are sheet metal union members. The major union at the plant, Sign and Pictorial Painters Local 791, AFL-CIO, accepted the company's new contract proposals before the old pact expired April 30, Guilbault said.

The metal workers want a 35-cent an hour wage hike over a two-year span while Industrial is offering 27 1/2 cents over three years.

Industrial Enameling, built under the Balance Agriculture with Industry bond issue, is Bay St. Louis' first major industry.

Waveland depot is threatened

Louisville and Nashville Railroad Co. posted notices Monday on Waveland's depot that it will ask the Public Service Commission for authority to abandon and close this agency. Instead, it wants to use the 100-year-old depot as a non-agency or passenger station.

Elwyn W. Robinson, PSC secretary, said the L&N petition had not been filed as of yesterday.

Meanwhile J.H. Harrod, investigator for W. E. (Bucky) Moore, southern district commissioner, conferred Wednesday with Waveland and county officials as well as Willie Bordeges, agent at the depot, on ways to preserve the local operation. It was indicated petitions will be circulated protesting the closing.

The agency handles all freight for Waveland, Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore and Ansley. The L&N's plan would mean that all these shipments would have to be pre-paid. In addition, the flag stop for passenger trains Nos. 33 and 37 would

Sewer finance meet slated in Waveland

Utilities — gas, sewerage and trains — were major topics at Tuesday night's meeting Waveland Town Council.

At last month's meeting, council had directed a follow-up letter to the L&N Railroad denuding that it clear the ditches on the north side of its tracks. About half of this work has been done but meantime, on Monday, the L&N posted notice it would seek authority to discontinue providing an agent at Waveland. Currently Waveland has an agent five days a week. While he sells only about $50 a month in passenger fares he handles freight for Waveland and three adjoining communities.

Copies of B.M. Dornblath and Associates' preliminary engineering report on sewerage facilities for the town were presented council. Tonight council hopes to meet with Dornblath and plan a public hearing on the question for Friday, May 14.

The engineers' report, based on census figures for 1940, 1950 and 1960, points up that Hancock County lies between the two fastest growing political subdivisions in the area. The county's population increased 23.9 per cent in the 20-year period.

To finance the proposed sewerage system the report suggests, on a 4 per cent interest basis, at a charge of $4.25 a month per service connection and a millage increase of five mills. With a $5 per month service charge the bonds could probably be financed with a 3-

Chinese-Russian Rows

The Chinese-Russian feud is growing more furious every day. The fraternal ties between these two great communist parties have been completely severed. Only the coldest diplomatic relations remain.

There are continuing reports of armed clashes along the Chinese-Russian border. Chinese agents secretly distributed pro-Peking propaganda to delegates at the Polish Party Congress. The Russians, in turn, strengthened their hold on Mongolia in China's backyard. Soviet secret police have helped the Mongolian rulers purge pro-Chinese sympathizers.

Both Moscow and Peking also have propaganda broadcasts at one another.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Something has happened to the second set of the Chinese atom bomb. U.S. aerial photographs show the Chinese were ready to explode a second bomb more than one month ago, but nothing has happened.

It's believed the Chinese had been moving their entire nuclear installation to another secret location for fear of a U.S. bombing attack.

Obviously the Chinese read American newspapers and have seen reports that one school of thought inside the Pentagon would like to knock out the Chinese nuclear installation before it is developed further.

Cigarette health warning

Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore. (her husband died of cancer and she has undergone one operation for cancer), will probably win her battle to require some kind of health warning in cigarette advertising. She has an important new ally in the memory that Edward R. Murrow died of lung cancer from smoking.

The cigarette-health bill, as voted out by the Senate Commerce Committee, was pretty much as we predicted. Mrs. Neuberger will go through the motions of trying to make this tougher on the Senate floor, but actually will be satisfied with the committee version.

What she is really aiming at is to strengthen the hand of the Federal Trade Commission in requiring a health warning in all cigarette commercials; to stymie Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., from passing his bill to bar FTC regulation of cigarette advertising. We believe Rogers will be defeated; Mrs. Neuberger will win.

Atrocities by Viet Cong

The State Department has suppressed shocking evidence of communist atrocities in South Viet Nam. Our diplomats are afraid it would inflame American passions and hamper efforts to seek a peaceful settlement.

However, Pentagon officers have been showing photographs of atrocity victims to friends on Capitol Hill. They show men and women horribly mutilated. The photos have been turned over to Speaker John McCormack, and to Sen. Dodd of Connecticut who has gone to South Viet Nam to check personally on the atrocities.

The Viet Cong have been carrying out 350 terror attacks a week on South Vietnamese villages. The chief victims have been village officials, their families and friends.

More than 450 civilian officials are known to have been killed, most of them brutally. Another 1,200 officials have been carried off to an unknown fate.

Secret press conference

The reason for all those simultaneous press reports last week that the USA might use the atomic bomb in Asia was quite simple. Secretary of Defense McNamara had held an off-the-record press conference with certain selected newsmen.

His words were not alarming—in the form he gave them. He made it clear there was no plan now to use nuclear weapons, but didn't rule out the possibility of their use if necessary, just as we have never ruled them out in the past.

Afterward newsmen got together, compared notes, found that one man was going to blow up the story, so the others did likewise.

President Johnson had to put out a special statement to undo the damage, and it's doubtful whether the damage has yet been repaired. Coming on the heels of our use of riot gas and our bombing of North Viet Nam, the background press conference increased the world image of the U.S. as a ruthless military power.

Note—Background press conferences boomeranged frequently during the Eisenhower administration, generally have been avoided in the Johnson administration.

A Conservative View By James J. Kilpatrick

In the April issue of the National Civic Review, a publication of the National Municipal League, James Nathan Miller says some blunt things about our state legislatures—things that have needed saying for a long, long time. His piece is reprinted in the May Reader's Digest, and while it is not my business to drum up some reprint trade for the Digest, a public-spirited citizen couldn't invest $300 more wisely than in mailing a copy to each of the 8,000 state legislators in the country.

It just might do some good, for the typical state legislator is pretty well shaken up these days. The courts are about to re-apportion him out of business, and the Congress proposes to leave him mightily little business, anyhow. If recent trends continue, the state lawmakers will go the way of anti-macassars and spats.

Mr. Miller's main point will not improve their dispositions. He suggests that by and large they have brought this ignominy on themselves. Social and political reforms are moving by jet plane; the state legislators travel by horse and buggy. They still operate according to the agrarian modes of Mr. Jefferson's day; they are underpaid, understaffed, overburdened, and overlobbed. Worst of all—and Mr. Miller does not make this point as sharply as he should have made it—they suffer terribly for want of leadership and vision.

The melancholy truth, or such is the verdict of newsmen across the country, is that the typical state legislator doesn't know any better. He is a small-town thinker, smart enough to survive at the law or to make an honest profit selling coal, but his college days are long behind him and his reading stops with Little Orphan Annie. Confronting any of the great issues of our time—urbanization, air pollution, new approaches to mental health—he sits dazed and blinking at his desk. He is either shocked or overwhelmed by any figure larger than, say, $50,000, and the idea of a four-billion-dollar budget, which is what California faces in the coming fiscal year, leaves him acutely uneasy or downright stupefied.

There are exceptions, of course. The General Assembly of Virginia is a superior body. I have encountered first-raters in state houses from Pennsylvania to Arizona—men of keen mind and wide-ranging intelligence—and as urban representation increases, their number tends to grow. Yet the average is dismally low.

U.S. in Dominican Republic

One tip-off to the motive in landing Marines in the Dominican Republic was President Johnson's private remark about ex-President Juan Bosch, whose followers had taken the city of Santo Domingo.

"Having Bosch in control would be like having Arthur Schlesinger running a country," Johnson said. He referred to the Harvard professor, JFK's former ghost writer, who left the Johnson administration because he said it was impossible to write speeches with a Texas drawl.

Bosch is not considered pro-communist, but naive about some of the left-wingers around him. It's feared he would permit a gradual infiltration of communism. This is the real reason for the landing of U.S. Marines—to sidetrack Bosch's followers. The protection of American citizens was a relatively minor consideration.

U.S. intervention, which was urged by Texas-born Tom Mann,

As Mr. Miller makes clear, it scarcely could be otherwise. For the state legislator, lawmaking is a part-time avocation. In between sessions, he may do a little homework, but he's usually too busy to do very much. Thus he arrives at the capital ill-equipped for the legislative snowstorm that descends, and before long he's caught in a blizzard. The state legislative sessions of 1963 saw nearly 4,000 bills and resolutions in Florida, 4,700 in California, 1,900 in Texas, and 1,350 in Washington. The lawmaker can't begin to read them all. His constituents are even more ignorant and provincial than he is; but he would answer their mail if only he could find a girl to take a letter. He goes daily to committee hearings, where the only knowledgeable fellows are the chairman and the chief lobbyist. The pay is pitiful and the hotel cooking has him bloated. No one knows the score. His feet hurt. And it rains.

Some gestures toward improvement may be seen. Several states have raised legislative pay to a level that ought to attract competent men, though to judge from New York's experience the correlation may be hard to prove. Most of the states now maintain legislative advisory councils, charged with drafting bills and conducting interim studies, but they maintain them very poorly. Pennsylvania and Nevada are exceptions. Here and there a state legislature hires bright young students of political science as "legislative internes," assigned to serve as committee clerks and aides, but most committees still are staffed by affable hacks.

Part of the fault lies in the state constitutions, which range in idiocy from large to monstrous. Louisiana's constitution runs to 1,000 pages; it has been amended 400 times in the past 45 years. Michigan at long last achieved some sensible revisions, but most of the other state constitutions trap the legislatures in a net of untouchable statute law. The result is that often the states cannot act boldly or imaginatively. They can only wiggle feebly.

In the end, the fault goes to the people themselves. They darkly suspect their legislators of high living at the capital; they distrust constitutional changes; and they rank lawmakers lower than school teachers. Until these attitudes change, no significant reforms can be expected, and it may be said of the mediocrities in office and their dull-witted constituents that they richly deserve each other.

Hospital...

(Cont. from Page 1.) Motion of Depts. Keller and Beat 2 to accept the low bids recommended by Thomas O. Logue, hospital administrator, and the commission, the only dispute arising over patient beds. Supervisor H. C. Dean of Beat 1, out of the room when the vote was taken, had supported Logue's request that the beds be purchased from the third low bidder, American Seating Co.

Logue said he was aware this was a big item and that the hospital commission had always seen it went to the low bidder but he did not feel that for Hancock General, the lowest bid was necessarily the best.

Dean backed Logue on this point, comparing bids to the difference between "a Ford and a Cadillac", but his motion to accept the bids as recommended by Logue did not get a second.

Lucien M. Gex, supervisors' attorney, advised since Logue said all bed bids met specifications there was nothing he could do. However, the board compromised with the administrator and voted in the bid of General Surgical Supply Co. of Birmingham, Ala., second low bidder on beds, since the Caron equipment they offered is what is now in use. The low price was from H. Roberts, which Logue describes as a new firm and was not satisfied with its goods shown in the brochure. Other low bids were which Sewer meet...

(Cont. from Page 1.) mill or less increase in taxes. The governing body did not take up in detail the report, preferring to go over it with Dornblatt personally.

The third utility question stemmed from two applications by United Gas Corp. for authority to serve two major areas of the county. Proposal No. 1, scheduled for hearing before the public service commission on May 21 involves Pearlington, Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor and the surrounding areas. The additional by United includes the area from two sections north of Kiln south to the municipal boundaries. Longo suggested the possibility of Waveland going ahead immediately in making natural gas available to customers north of the city. By transfers of funds he estimated at least $11,000 could be made available for this purpose. Since Waveland owns the main from there to United's line near Kiln, it could provide lateral service at relatively low cost. By doing so now the town would be able to block the utility company's application to the extent Waveland provides natural gas service north of the town.

In other matters council backed the zoning board's disapproval of two building permits. In one case, however, the zoning board is to look into the matter further. The mayor and aldermen also voted a $50 contribution to the town's volunteer fire department, primarily to help pay for the group's telephone bill.

Ezell Lee, Hancock North Central football coach, appeared to report on the football field. Also in attendance to proffer advice was John D. Smith, assistant county agent.

Plowing and discing has been completed on the field and now the board was asked for an okay to purchase hybrid Bermuda grass sprigs and fertilizer for the playing surface. Also required is two-inch plastic piping to permit a sufficient volume of water to be carried to the sprinkling system.

As sufficient money is available in the athletic fund it was decided to purchase required items therefrom as all should be ready prior to any rainfall.

On the question of future field maintenance was decided to consider purchase of a tractor and reel type grass cutting equipment. Bids will be sought on both items if, after an investigation by board members, such is deemed a necessity.

United...

The supervisors were informed during the last week that the PSC has scheduled this application for docketing at its June 1 meeting.

Nowlin told the Sea Coast Echo Tuesday that United Gas would take into consideration annexation proposals of Bay St. Louis and Waveland in serving this proposed area.

The United Gas representative reported that if his company gets the permit for Pearlington, et al, the first installation will be at that end of the line and plans are advanced enough to enable construction to start almost at once. He was optimistic about growth of the county and cited the need to provide natural gas for the dozens of new homes being erected throughout the area.

REV. MALLORY DUGGAN CONDUCTS COMMUNION AT ANNUNCIATION

Children receive first communion

Ninety-three persons, 85 of them children and eight adults, were confirmed by Bishop Joseph Brumitt, auxiliary bishop of the Natchez-Jackson Diocese, at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at Annunciation Parish School at kiln.

During 9:30 a.m. mass with Rev. Mallory Duggan as celebrant 13 young people made their first communion at the church.

Because each of the 93 persons in the confirmation class had an individual sponsor, that ceremony was moved to the school gymnasium to accommodate those who wished to attend.

Assisting the bishop were Revs. Bernard McDonald of St. Joseph Church at Pearl-ton and Hubert Wolfe of Delisle. Others in the ceremony were Rev. Charles Johnson of Moss Point, formerly of St. Ann's at Dedeaux, and Rev. Kenneth Brown, assistant at Annunciation.

Making their first communion were Gerard Mauffray, Susan Cuevas, Kelly Lyons, Deborah Henley, Linda Lee, the Ladner, Keith Lee, the Haas, Michael Schuler, the

May 3-8 cited as Mississippi Produce Week

"Millions of Mississippians are eating more nutritious and varied meals," said Tim W.
Davis, vice president of Winn-Dixie Montgomery, Inc., in a statement designating May 3-8
as Mississippi Produce Week.
Davis said, producers of firm products in Mississippi, already highly recognized for their production of fresh fruit and vegetables, vegetable crops, are to be commended for their improved production and marketing practices.
He continued, "Economists tell us that food today is more of a bargain than ever. Millions of Mississippians, together with 195,000,000 other Americans, are eating more nutritious and varied meals at lower cost than in years of hours past. That is any time in our nation's history."
Citing the part Winn-Dixie plays in the Southland's economy, A. D. Davis, president, said that Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc. paid $70,661,985 in salaries last year. Other figures were:
operating costs, $14,096,973;
local taxes, including social security, $2,937,652; advertising, $7,032,500; and other expenses, $5,427,841.

tion during the past years.

more years and ask that you give your whole-hearted support to the third member of the team, Mayor John A. Scafide, in his bid for reelection on Tuesday, May 11.

Commissioners

RE-ELECT JOHN A. SCAFIDE MAYOR

So often, in political campaigns, candidates speak and write about how "Our city is presently facing one of the most critical and challenging periods of its history". This statement, no matter how worn out and trite it may sound, is, without a question of doubt, most applicable at this time to the City of Bay St. Louis.

No one will dispute the fact that our city is NOW experiencing a terrific economic and population explosion. The resulting impact has already forcibly brought out the obvious need of many changes, adjustments and improvements in the scope and quality of municipal services.

We will be faced with many problems during the coming months, some we have already begun to meet --- school expansion, sewage and water works construction, subdivision regulations, zoning ordinances, increased police protection, modernizing municipal codes, building, housing, plumbing, electric and gas codes, active Civil Defense unit, and many others.

I say to you in all sincerity, that at this critical point in our city's history, experienced, qualified, able and proven leadership at every municipal level is a most urgent need. I humbly but confidently submit to you that my twelve years of experience as your chief administrative officer, does better qualify me to guide the destinies of our city during the crucial times ahead.

I humbly and sincerely solicit your vote and support in the Democratic Primary on Tuesday,
May 11th.

RE-ELECT JOHN A. SCAFIDE MAYOR

Adv.)

Gregory elected Lions president

Farris M. Gregory was elected president of the Bay St. Louis Lions Club at its bi-monthly last week. He will take office in July, succeeding Don Lusich.

Others elected for the coming year are: Charles Ray Meyers, secretary-treasurer; Lusich, tail twister and lion tamer; Conrad Mauffray, first vice president; Dr. Laton Weinberg, second vice president and Robert Lauderdale, third vice president.

Named to two-year terms as directors were Dr. M.J. Wolfe, Jr., and George Lipscomb while James Higdon and James Pillingame will serve one year.

Principal project of the club is sight conservation and it will continue testing school children's eyes to determine if corrective measures are needed.

Newcomers who have been Lions elsewhere are invited to join the Bay group at its meetings on the second and fourth Mondays at 8 p.m. at Gus Stevens Restaurant.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI

The Powers That Be were ever so much more charitable in their offering of sunshine and balmy breezes for out-of-door activities such as CHDS Spring Festival and Sideline Club's fair than they were around this time last year. We seem to recall that Saturday night was a complete wash-out for the Rock-A-Chaw boosters, and we mean that literally, as it rained just about the time the event was getting underway. Rev. Charles crew fared somewhat better in their 1964 enterprise, but don't think any day could have been much more perfect than was Saturday.

A romance of quite some duration has finally gotten around to a stage more than serious. . . in fact it's just about at the fatal step. Chris Bell, now living in Decatur, Ala., where he is on the staff of the Huntsville Times (the paper covering the bi-city area), must have wearied of the long drive to Waveland almost every weekend as he gifted his now fiancée Ann Langley with a lovely solitaire last Saturday morning. They haven't set the exact date but the nuptials will take place around the end of May.

Alma (Mrs. H.G.) Chapman most obligingly called to introduce herself via phone - she's lucky winner of the lovely early American stereo given away last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman moved here from New Orleans about a year ago, and live just off Beach Blvd. in what was formerly the guest cottage in the rear of Kit and James Senter's home. She was truly thrilled with her prize and graciously invited us to drop by and admire same in her living room.

Going once-twice-we're sold

Local Cancer Fund workers have come up with what we think is quite a novel way to raise money for this project. A buffet dinner-dance and an auction (with a professional auctioneer to call for bids) will be held at Bay Waveland Yacht Club starting at 8 p.m. on Saturday. Donation is three dollars per person and everyone is urged to bring an article to be auctioned off. Anyone wishing to donate such items may call either Gerald Cox, chairman or Dot Taylor at 467-5882, and they will arrange to have them picked up.

Bowling buddies and babies

We want to send get well wishes to our little bowling buddy Dot Bernond who underwent emergency surgery in Gulfport last week.

Well, now everyone on Beach Blvd. can draw a deep sigh of relief. Although Marti (Mrs. John) Glover didn't quite make it to the delivery room, she was in the hospital corridor when her brand new daughter arrived at 12:15 a.m. on Thursday, April 29 in Hancock General. The tiny one, to be christened Johnna Kelly, weighed in at four pounds, 11 ounces. The two returned home on Friday, and mother and baby are doing quite well.

Don't exactly know what kind of greetings to send Anna Gayan. . . when we asked daughter Sandra how mother was her slightly confusing reply went something like this. "Fine, but I think she's just a little bit sick."

"Neighbor" (Mr. H.L.) Ming, president of Clermont Harbor Civic Association, has asked us to remind one and all that there will be an adult dance at Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center from 9 p.m. 'til 1 a.m. on Saturday, with a band from the Crescent City furnishing the music. Donation is $3 per couple.

Sports, sickies and sales

Still more on the fishing front—Ridie Blaize caught 28 specs averaging a pound or over each, from the railroad bridge Saturday. Wife Rita was along, but she returned with only badly skinned shin suffered when she slipped between two cross ties, for all of her trouble.

Merle Stiefel is under the weather, with, of all things, a case of measles.

Holy Name Society of St. Clare's Catholic Church will observe Mother's Day with a communion, to be followed by breakfast at the parish hall with mothers and wives as guests of honor. Their upcoming chicken dinner is scheduled for Sunday, May 16. Donation is only $1.25 for delicious fried chicken and all the trimmings.

St. Joseph's Parents Club's rummage sale will take place, after a couple of postponements due to lack of saleable items, on Friday and Saturday, in the former L. and M. Furniture Store building on the corner of Main and Toulme Streets.

Nancy Cox and her crew, husband Lucien and Peggy (Mrs. Floyd) Hepting, sailed away with top honors in the race at Bay-Waveland on Sunday afternoon.

Katherine (Mrs. Ed) Heath gets some of our most sincere get well wishes as she has symptoms identical to that of your reporter, and we KNOW she feels miserable.

We're very sorry to report that Louise Wymers' daughter-in-law, Pat Watkins, her two daughters Renee and Sheryl Jean and Louise's sister Elmire (Mrs.) Don Belden were injured in an automobile accident just outside of Columbia, Tenn. last Thursday. They were enroute to Cleveland, Ohio, to attend Pat's brother's wedding. Pat suffered a compound fracture of her leg; Cheryl, a fractured leg and Elmire, most seriously hurt, had fractured hips in addition to other injuries.

Gerry Wilson and daughter Michele left Saturday to join husband Budde in San Diego, Calif. They left New Orleans a little after noon, via jet and by dinner time all were happily eating some stuffed crabs sent by Budde's mother, Grace Boudages.

BIG CITY SIGHTSEEING - Touring French Quarter and having coffee and doughnuts at traditional coffee shop Girl Scout Troop 242 climax day in New Orleans on Saturday with a river trip on board S.S. President. In Jackson Square in front of Cathedral are front, Diane Renard, Ruth Ann Whitely, Jan West, Christie Shultz, Linda Fleming, Terry Zingerling, Kathy Mayeur, Arlene Osburn; middle, Gennie Ruffin, Niece Saucier, Joyce Zingerling, Mona Saucier, Sharon Long, back, Betty Vanta, Cathy Vanta, Gale Hall, Julie Pardue, Mrs. Donald Lawless, leader, Mrs. G.H. Long, assistant leader. Other adults who assisted transporting chaperon were G.H. Long and Mmes. Bisdelle Laverick and S.J. Whitely.

Piano students try for entrance into fraternity

Seeking local, district and state honors, 20 piano students of St. Joseph Academy and Our Lady of the Gulf School have registered as candidates for membership in the National Fraternity of Student Musicians and will play in the Hattiesburg section of the National Piano Playing Auditions on Saturday.

Honors are conferred according to the number of standard classic, romantic and modern period selections performed by the individual student in the presence of an out of state examiner.

Those entered are: Levenna Benigno, Susan Alice Ben-

Gripe Corner

We've been asked to comment on the absence of a back stop on Waveland School's baseball diamond. . . the frame is still standing, but most of the mesh is gone and each time a ball is missed by the catcher a child darts out into heavily travelled Central Avenue to retrieve same. Let us not wait for a tragedy to force repair on just about the only amusement facility the children at this school have to enjoy but rather let us fix it now.

From my notes

Teddy Stechmann is the only one we know who picked Dapper Debonaire as winner of the Kentucky Derby—before the race, that is!

Her many friends here will be sorry to hear of the death of Annie (Mrs. Angelo) Palmisano, who with the late Mr. Palmisano operated a restaurant and praline shop on Ulman Avenue for many years. She was long time president of local Woodman of the World Circle 167, and in her honor the annual banquet was held on her birthday, Nov. 16. Mrs. Palmisano had moved to New Orleans three years ago to be near repleted, but can vouch for the fact that Margaret (Mrs. Waldo) Otis' sweet pea bedecked champagne was a masterpiece. . . the judges apparently agreed, as she won the tri-color.

One of our most travelling correspondents is off again. Hazel (Mrs. Charles) Dahlin's most recent jaunt was to Natchitoches, La. where she attended a Kappa Kappa Tau convention, and we're certain, enjoyed some of that fabulous creole cooking.

Fishing news
Good for a change. . . Ralph Morel and Merlin Markel had a good day Friday and Effie Yarbrough says crabs are all but jumping up on the sea wall. . . nice fat ones, too.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club luncheon served under Mary Lou Stern's capable management Wednesday at the Garden Center was delicious and hats worn in the show following serving of the food by such charmers as Dot Phillips, Pat Viguerie, Bie McDonald and Nancy Gex, were sensational. We were forced to leave before judging was completed.

Activity banquet set for Saturday

Featuring sports, scholastic and achievement awards, the St. Stanislaus Sidelines Club annual Activity Banquet is set for 8 p.m. Saturday in the College's cafeteria. Master of ceremonies will be Andre Argeneaux, Jr.

Six groups of students will be honored and trophies, jackets, pins and letters will be presented by the moderator of each section.

Moderator Brother Neri, assisted by coaches Billy Murphy, Harriman Morgan and Buddy Pitolo will handle sports, and presentations will go to football, basketball, baseball and track stars.

Scholastic awards, handled by the school administration, will feature the presentation of jackets to honor roll students and school letters to those students who have maintained their averages for four or five honor roll periods.

Selection of the Magnolia State representative will take place when the special achievement section of the presentation is reached.

Student council members will be introduced and receive awards for services they have rendered to the student body.

Under moderator Brother Celestine, the Ro-K-A-Chaw school paper staff will be presented items suited to their achievement.

The final classification for students, who will receive pins, letters and jackets will be those who have participated in school band activities. Moderator is Brother Norman, assisted by music director Joe Copley, Jr.

Refreshments for Sidelines members will be served at 7 p.m.

IT'S BALL TIME AGAIN - Mrs. Theo Tudury, recreation director for City Parks and Playgrounds Commission, signs up 46 Little Leaguers and nine Pony Leaguers at initial registration Saturday at City Ball Park, Ulman and Dunbar Avenues. Pony Leaguers are to register at 10 a.m. this Saturday.

Little and Pony League numbers low, says Tudury

With both the Little and Pony Leagues adding a team this season, the cry is out for youngsters to play ball.

That's the report from Mrs. Theo Tudury, recreation director for the City Parks and Playgrounds Commission, who said she was somewhat disappointed only 46 boys aged 9 to 12 years signed up last Saturday for the Little League. There were nine aged 13 to 15 years to register for the Pony League.

The older boys are to sign up at 10 a.m. this Saturday at City Ball Park at Ulman and Dunbar Avenues. Mrs. Tudury added she has been receiving a good many telephone inquiries. Children should sign promptly so that teams can be formed, she noted.

Industrial Rummeling will sponsor a Pony League team this year, bringing that number up to four. The Little League will grow to eight teams with Hancock Bank joining as a sponsor.

Practice will start next Saturday with both morning and afternoon sessions in preparation for the season opener June 7.

CYO capture Chateau Seu journey crown

Other games saw Trapani down Southern Realty 15-12 and Speary Electric win over Pearlinton 15-0 in five innings.

Takes double championship

Robert Whavers of Valena C. Jones triumphed once again by taking the outstanding boy award at Southern Mississippi Athletic Conference track meet held at St. Stanislaus Stadium on Saturday.

Registering top slots in both the girls and boys division, the Jones' crew led their nearest rival, Wiggins, by 16 1/2 points at the close of the day's activities.

Final standings of the eight schools participating in the boys events were: VCJ, 48; Wiggins, 40 1/2; Randolph, 39 1/2; Richton, 17; Poplarville, 10; St. Rose, 5; Purvis, 4; Beaumont, 2.

Girls school standings were: VCJ, 42; Wiggins, 33; Poplarville, 10; Richton, 3; Beaumont, 2.

VCJ's triumphs included: Whavers winning the 440 yard dash in 53.9, with E. Weavers finishing third, and the relay team of Whavers, Weavers, U. Sheppard and J. Peters capturing the 440, 880 and mile relay events and placing second in the sprint medley relay.

E. McCarthy cleared the six foot bar to win the high jump with E. Taylor, sweeping over just one inch lower taking second place. T. Williams kept 19'7" through the air to tie for first in the broad jump with L. Griffin of Richton. N. LeJohn threw the discus sufficiently far to gain a third place standing. A. Acker ran hard enough to pant across the 880 yard run finish line as a stand up second, and relay runner Sheppard gave additional second place points to his school with a second slot score in the 220 yard dash.

P. Walker, VCJ's outstanding girl track star did the 50 yard dash in 6.1 to gain first place and schoolmate A. Mitchell ran third in the same event. The 60 yard dash, in one of the looser finishes of the entire day, saw Walker tie with M. Hints of Wiggins for first place ribbons with Mitchell romping in for an undisputed third. Teaming up with G. Mullins and M. Price, Walker and Mitchell tied for first in the 240 relay with the Wiggins soft shoe group but adding wings to their feet took the 300 yard relay without close competition.

A. Haynes hurled a baseball for 207 feet to beat teammate C. Fairley's throw of 195 and Poplarville's hurling star C. Griffin's effort of 193 feet. D. Young, high jumped 4'11" for a third slot and G. Mullins broad jumped 14'9" for the same position in the sister event.

Outstanding girl of the day was Molly Hints of Wiggins.

Bay High finishes third in Gulf Conference event

Bay High cleared the 100 yard dash in 10.5 seconds to establish a new record during the championship meet at Perkinston last Wednesday.

WILKINS - John Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins, 327 de la Ave., displays two speckled trout he caught at the end of Municipal Bay 27 using shrimp. It's biggest ever seen and John Wilkins has it stuffed for record during the championship meet at Perkinston last Wednesday.

Finishing in third spot, Bay High gathered a total of 44 points against the Coast's top athletic performers. Stone totaled 51, Long Beach captured second place with 48, Ocean Springs managed 43, St. Martin took 21 and in the cellar was Pass Christian with 15.

Larry Johnson took first place honor in the shot put and completed his hat-trick placings with a third in the broad jump and a fourth place score in the discus throwing event.

Don Wilkins hit the slipstream and jetted over for first places in both the 100 and 200 yard dashes. His time of 10.5 seconds in the 100 tied a conference record and his 23.1 seconds for the 220 left all opposition far behind.

Other placings were gained by Jeff Phipps who poled himself over the cross-bar for a second spot, David Necaise who hopped, skipped and jumped his way into a fourth place point getting position in the high hurdles then bobbed through the low hurdle event for a fourth position at the tape, Joe Overall who stuck to his leaders and made fifth in the long mile run and Tommy White who zipped in fifth in the 880 yard run.

The relay team of C. Necaise, Don Wilkins, Glen Rose

and Tommy Blalock managed fourth place in the 440 yard affair, then took a second in the 880 yard event. Distance relay runners Charlie Necaise, Joe Overall, Tommy Blalock and Johnny Marshall went for the full mile and saw only two others cross the line ahead of their last man.

Candidate for

Mayor of Bay St. Louis

May 11th

To the Voters of Bay St. Louis

If elected mayor I propose the following:

1. Local tax payers would be given every legal opportunity to obtain contracts given by the City in preference to out of town contractors.
2. Will publish city financial statements and in the event of large profits in gas or water operations the charges for the utilities will be reduced.
3. More illuminated play grounds and an illuminated softball field for back of town.
4. Culverts where they are needed especially in front of Valena C. Jones School.
5. Work for a railroad overpass across Front Street.
6. Will work to keep parking meters out of Bay St. Louis.
7. Will work with every person or any group of people for a better city.

Cindy (nee Charles) Lumpkin (nee Carver) is apparently expecting as she was feted at a baby shower in Poplarville on Friday, Apr. 23.

Everett Peterson would have been more impressed with Churchill Downs had he been more successful in his choice of the winning nag in the Derby. Haven't heard how Margaret and Dick Hadden fared as yet, but do know that they too took in the big event.

Weekend and summertime residents, Jean and Dick Reeves, were among Bay-Waveland Yacht Clubbers participating in the regatta at Fairhope, Ala. over the weekend. Maxie Treilles came home with all sorts of trophies won by Treilles trained poodles, in Florida competition last week.

Much to be envied are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scaffidi who are enroute to Europe for quite a grand tour. . . to be done in fancy style as their son and daughter-in-law, whom they will be visiting, have acquired a brand new Mercedes-Benz for motor sightseeing.

Guests honored

Betty (Mrs. Edward P.) Phillips entertained at luncheon at Haverty's Friday honoring her niece Mrs. F. Lloyd Monroe, who with Mr. Monroe left Monday for an opera tour of Europe. Upon their return they will go to Boston to visit their daughter Dorothy, who recently received her master's degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is now engaged in research there. Other guests were Betty's sister, Mrs. Horace Phillips and Mrs. K.B. Thompson.

Jackie and Boo Noto and, of course, little J'don, have just moved into their brand new Turner Street home. Boo and Jackie's father, Roland Taillac, fished Saturday and caught lots of green trout. For Boo it was quite an accomplishment as his arm, recently broken when his automobile fell on him as he was working on it, is still in a large cast and he had to hold his pole between his knees and reel with the other hand.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS A-LONG THE WAY - Solemn small faces of robed and capped children as they walk slowly on their way to confirmation; others, moving more rapidly, racquets beneath their arms, tennis court bound; blackberry pickers in attire of every imaginable variety lining the back road and the excited squeaking of baby birds as a destructive blue jay swoops too near to their little sanctum.

Industrial Enameling Division

P.O. Box 309 - Central Avenue

Bay St. Louis, Mississippi

OPEN LETTER TO PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY

On Friday, April 30th, the Sheet Metal Workers employed in the Enameling Division plant of Industrial Electric, Inc. voted to strike rather than accept the wage increase which we offered to them, which increase amounts to $416.00 per year per man in the second year of a two year contract.

The Porcelain workers in the Enameling Plant accepted our offer for a similar amount. Also, all other crafts in our New Orleans plants have accepted similar increases.

It has come to our attention that we are accused of exploiting the men working in our plant. We would like to set out the below information which we feel will show that the wages paid in our plant are much above the average wage rate paid in the Bay St. Louis area and which are in line with wages paid in Enameling plants in other areas of the Country with whom we have to compete.

ANNUAL EARNINGS

(If increase is implemented)

NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES

$8,000.00 and over

6

$7,000.00 to $8,000.00

10

$6,000.00 to $7,000.00

3

$5,000.00 to $6,000.00

10

$4,000.00 to $5,000.00

37

$3,000.00 to $4,000.00

55

Note: There are only 8 employees receiving the minimum wage rate of $1.25 per hour and they are trainees. They are also included in the proposed increase.

We would also like to point out that the increase offered is in excess of the guide lines set out by the President of the United States. President Johnson asked Management and Labor to hold wage increases and prices to approximately 3 to 3 1/2% annual increase.

Further, the average rate offered to the Sheet Metal workers would be 5% higher than the average worker in the same general classification according to the latest figures published by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

We sincerely believe that wage increases in excess of what we have already offered would place us in an unfavorable competitive position and cause a decrease in employment.

Very truly yours,

Industrial Electric, Inc.
Enameling Division

C.M. Brignan, President
